Application for Transfer or Confirmation of a Visa

Apply online – it's faster & easier

The fastest and easiest way to apply to transfer your eVisa or visa label, or to obtain confirmation of your visa is online. Once you have your documents prepared, it should take less than 15 minutes to complete the online application form.

Apply online at www.immigration.govt.nz/visa-transfer

Transferring your eVisa or visa label to a new passport

If you have a new passport (because your old passport expired, was lost, stolen, damaged or your name has changed), you will need to transfer your visa into your new passport so you can continue to travel to and from New Zealand. This applies regardless of whether you had an eVisa or a visa label in your old passport.

If you are transferring your eVisa to your new passport or had a visa label in your old passport and you would like an eVisa in your new passport, there is no fee. If you still require a visa label in your new passport, a fee applies.

eVisas are issued for all visas. Instead of receiving a visa label in your passport you will get an eVisa letter containing your visa details. Visa labels are no longer required. Your eVisa can be checked electronically by airlines, employers, education providers and other New Zealand Government agencies.

If you are an Skilled Migrant Category interim visa holder who requires a transfer of visa, please note that physical visa labels are not available for this visa type. You can, however, apply to transfer your eVisa into your new passport.

Applying for the balance of your visa

If your temporary visa was granted for a shorter length than requested because your passport was about to expire, you can apply for the balance of the visa to be transferred to your new passport.

Confirming your New Zealand immigration status

Australian citizen or Australian permanent resident

If you are an Australian citizen or permanent resident currently living in New Zealand and you require evidence of your visa status, you can apply to get an eVisa or have a visa label placed in your passport showing your visa status.

If you travel outside New Zealand, your resident visa will expire and your eVisa or visa label will become invalid.

If you return and you still require evidence of your visa status, you would be required to get a new eVisa or visa label in your passport.

If you do not want your visa to expire when you leave New Zealand, apply for a 'variation of travel conditions' using the Application from a Resident or Former Resident Visa Holder (INZ 1175) form.

Confirmation of residence status

If you were granted a residence permit under the Immigration Act 1987 or Immigration Act 1964 you can apply for confirmation of your residence status.

If you no longer have your original passport with the original visa endorsement or other entry authority, you will need to provide evidence that you have lived in either New Zealand or Australia continuously since 2 April 1974.

Requesting a visa label

If you have received an eVisa and require a visa label in your passport. You will need to pay a fee and send us your passport.

Fees and where to send your application

There is no fee if you want an eVisa or a confirmation letter. A fee applies if you want a visa label in your passport. For location and fee details see our website www.immigration.govt.nz/fees

Do not use this form if you are a New Zealand citizen.
Complete a New Zealand Citizenship Endorsement Application (INZ 1174) instead if you need an endorsement of your New Zealand Citizenship in your foreign passport.
